

Promiscuity: Interviews with three promiscuous women and the impact it has had on their lives

Although in different countries the statistics are slightly different, in the UK and in the US sex-based surveys have shown that most women sleep with between 6 to 8 men before settling down with one long-term partner. A woman is said to be promiscuous if she has slept with over 12 men. But what makes a woman promiscuous and go from partner to partner? Does it stem from their childhood and parental influence; a feeling of being rejected, or physically or emotionally abused? Is it circumstance, meeting the wrong people at the wrong time, and if so why does this continually happen? Is it simply using sex as a form of immediate emotional attachment? In this short book, Julie interviews Linda, who has slept with 60 men, Cathy who has slept with over 120, and Kim who has slept with hundreds, and explores what has made them behave the way they do. Promiscuity is a unique interview based project with three women who have led promiscuous lives and the impact it has had on them.
